

I am against weakening the Indiana law. I do not believe that institutions need to be calling me, except with a specific problem with my account. If they want to announce a new product they have my monthly statement, or online service to promote what ever they are trying to sell. I do not want the selling my information to others. If I want to buy something I will find out about it, I do not need people calling my house!